

Schrack Technik GmbH guarantees to respect the anonymity of the user during his/her usage of the Schrack Technik GmbH website. We shall inform you in advance if your name, address or other personal data will be required.

When internet pages are called up, Schrack Technik GmbH receives usage data which are saved for security purposes and may permit identification of the user (e.g. IP address, date, time and the viewed pages). These data can be evaluated by Schrack Technik GmbH in order to create statistics on usage of the site. Schrack will respect valid legal regulations in all such measures. No data evaluation is made based on individual users. We reserve the right to statistical evaluation of anonymous data records. As far as Schrack Technik GmbH is obliged to do so under law or by way of a court decree, it will transfer its data to agencies entitled to the information. Schrack Technik GmbH will not pass on your data to third parties for other purposes without your expressed permission to do so.
